

Miklagård [The Great City]

In Old Norse, Miklagård means 'the great city'. During the 10th century Vikings set eyes on Istanbul for the very first time and named the largest city they knew of 'Miklagård'. It quickly became 'the' place to go for the Scandinavians of the time, similar to how most perceive New York nowadays.

MiklagårdArts

an innovative platform, a facilitator and connector for promoting transnational collaborations between Finland and the dynamic art scenes around the world stands for a structure where collaboration becomes a sustainable practice to produce large-scale productions.

creates diverse content with the existing arts and cultural institutions in Helsinki

WE FACILITATE

artistic interventions to merge internationalism and locality

WE CURATE & INITIATE

tailor made artistic ideas and stimulate creative clashes that arise when one confronts an unknown artistic milieu

“No culture can live if it attempts to be exclusive”

— MAHATMA GANDHI

We are curious and open-minded. We want to trigger creative minds and souls for innovative multi-genre confrontations around the world. We use our versatile know-how to envision and cultivate unique strategies to support a cultural evolution towards a more diverse and inclusive society. We hold the strong belief that cultural diversity is an explicit asset on the road to cultural wisdom. We are passionate about the work we do with an ever-present focus on leading the change.

WE CELEBRATE

diversity, equality
and values of inclusion to foster
cognitive diversity in the Finnish arts
scene

WE BUILD BRIDGES

to unleash the potential between arts & economic growth

to unlock the territorial borders between tech-developers and traditional cultural institutions

WE SEEK TO SPARK SUSTAINABLE

working structures for independent cultural players.

and new forms when it comes to artistic work, structure, business models.
